Janice Stanger Joins Intercare Insurance Solutions as Account Executive

New Team Member Enhances Intercare Client Services Team

SAN DIEGO, June 3, 2008 — Intercare Insurance Solutions, a leader in innovative benefits consulting and services, today announced that Janice Stanger has joined the firm as account executive. In her new role, Stanger is responsible for directing the activities of her client-focused account management team. Her focus is to ensure that Intercare continually delivers the highest standards of customer service possible. Stanger is also responsible for coordinating the implementation of wellness programs that are key to enhancing employee health and workforce productivity for the clients she serves. She is based in Intercare's corporate headquarters in San Diego, Calif. and reports to John Kahle, senior vice president and chief wellness officer for Intercare.

"Clients quickly build trust in Janice because of her exceptional knowledge, experience and integrity," said Kahle. "Janice combines her powerful technical expertise in financial analysis with strategic vision and creativity. She partners closely with her clients to identify and meet their unique needs. I'm confident that her expertise will further strengthen our accomplished San Diego team."

Stanger comes to Intercare with over 23 years of experience in account management within the health care industry. Her broad background encompasses all areas of employee benefits. Prior to joining Intercare, she was a senior consultant and principal with Mercer and account executive with Barney and Barney. At both firms, her responsibilities included strengthening long-term client relationships, designing and implementing benefit strategies, as well as overseeing financial analysis, communications, and compliance. Stanger has also held management positions at CIGNA and American Specialty Health.

Stanger holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in anthropology from Princeton University, a Master of Business Administration degree from the University of California, Berkeley and a PhD in human development and aging from the University of California, San Francisco. She is an expert in her field and has authored and coauthored over 30 articles that have been published in professional journals and other forums. Additionally, she has been cited in over 80 articles that have appeared in major newspapers, magazines and journals.

"I'm delighted to join Intercare and I'm eager to work with my team and our clients," said Stanger. "I admire Intercare's mission to change the way health benefits are perceived and delivered. I really look forward to providing our clients with the most innovative, effective benefit solutions available."
